Program Description

Objectives

At the end of the workshop, participants should be able to understand:

- the biological bases of pediatric cardiac surgery under normothermia
- technical aspects and protocols associated with normothermic CPB
- myocardial protection in congenital and pediatric cardiac surgery

Overview

This 2 day workshop will combine eight surgical procedures with live transmission and lectures. It will focus on the surgical management of the congenital heart defects (TGA, DORV, Aortic Arch Obstruction, LVOTO, Congenital Mitral Valve Disease, AVSD, TAPVC, ALCAPA, Univentricular Palliation, Guch...) using normothermic cardiopulmonary bypass and myocardial protection techniques.

Target audience

This workshop is designed for cardiac surgeons, anesthesiologists, perfusionists, and health care professionals involved in congenital and pediatric cardiac surgery.
