MISSION STATEMENT

On-Line Discussion

Interactive CardioVascular and Thoracic Surgery (ICVTS) provides a dynamic platform for the publication of short reports. ICVTS is conceived as virtual conference relying on both modern media and open discussion. After editing, all accepted reports are posted immediately on-line. An electronic, moderated discussion is then opened for 28 days. After closure of the discussion period, the reports pre-published on-line, as well as the moderated discussions, are published in the ICVTS archival on-line version and in the traditional paper format.

Archive Section

ICVTS publishes reports on all aspects of surgery of the heart, vessels and chest, including: Best Evidence Topics, Brief Communications, Case Reports, ESCVS Articles, Follow-up Papers, Historical Pages, Institutional Reports, Negative Results, New Ideas, Nomenclature, Proposals for Bail-out Procedure, Protocols, State-of-the-art, Work in Progress Reports. Multimedia content is welcomed – video and schematic.

Best Evidence Topics

ICVTS is open-access in the CTSNet journal collection but does not charge for authorship. ICVTS is indexed in MEDLINE/PubMed.

REPRODUCTION REQUIREMENTS

PDF certified (press-optimised, fonts embedded, more than or equal to 300 dpi, CMYK colours) files are preferred. Files prepared using other applications are also acceptable – all fonts and images must be supplied.

- Please ensure that all adverts conform to the correct trim size.
- Please supply each advert on a separate disk, including a list stating type of file, size of file and application used.
- A colour (match/proof) is required even when the file is sent by email/FTP/ISDN.
- ICVTS cannot accept any responsibility for colour reproduction if a contract colour proof is not supplied.
- Laser proofs do not qualify as a true colour match.
- When supplying files on disk, please use an industry standard CD-ROM.
